

Public Transport Stops Across Victoria

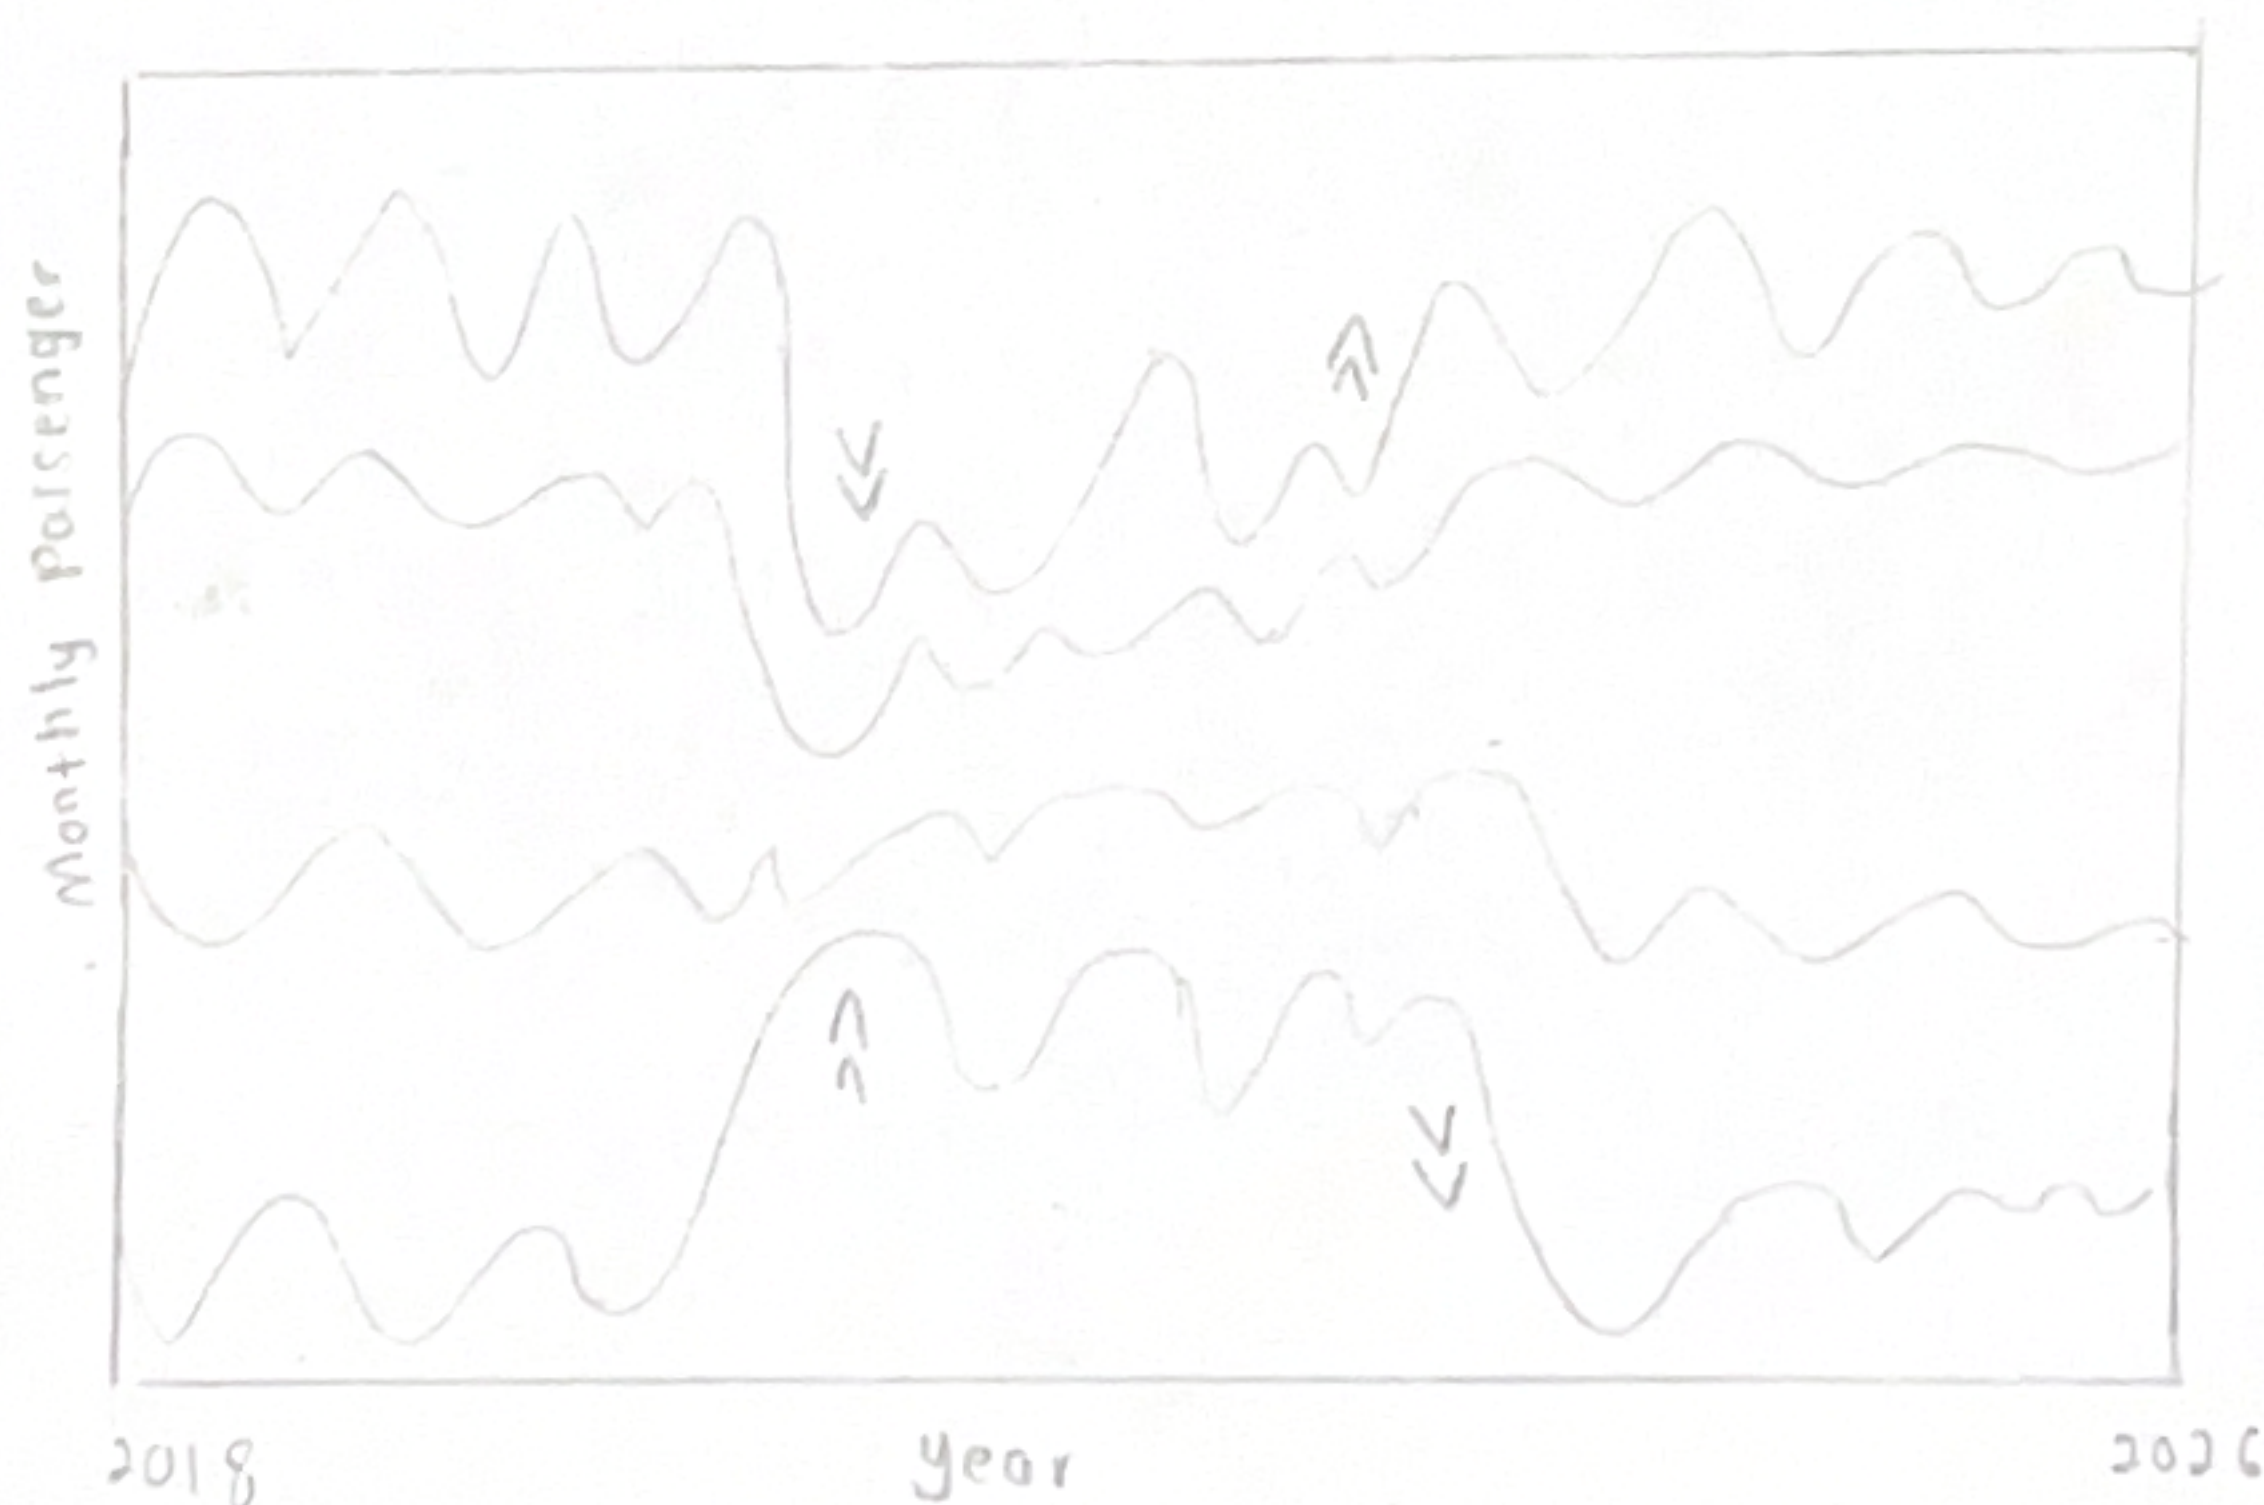

Click on dropdown
to filter

mode of Transport

☐ Metro Train☐ Metro Trom☐ Metro Busselect mode

The map shows distinct cluster on metropolitan Melbourne where public transport are highly concentrated and close in proximity - dense population. Outside central, follow linear pattern showing regional track and roads. In broader regional and rural areas, data distribution is sparse.

Passenger Usage Trend in Victoria Over Years

mode of Transport

☐ Trom☐ Bus☐ Train

From 2018 to 2026, train remains most famous mode

In 2020, due to lockdown, entire stream pinches inward. From 2022, the stream widens gradually, proving massive return of passengers.

Most Used Train Stops in Victoria

Select Year: 2023

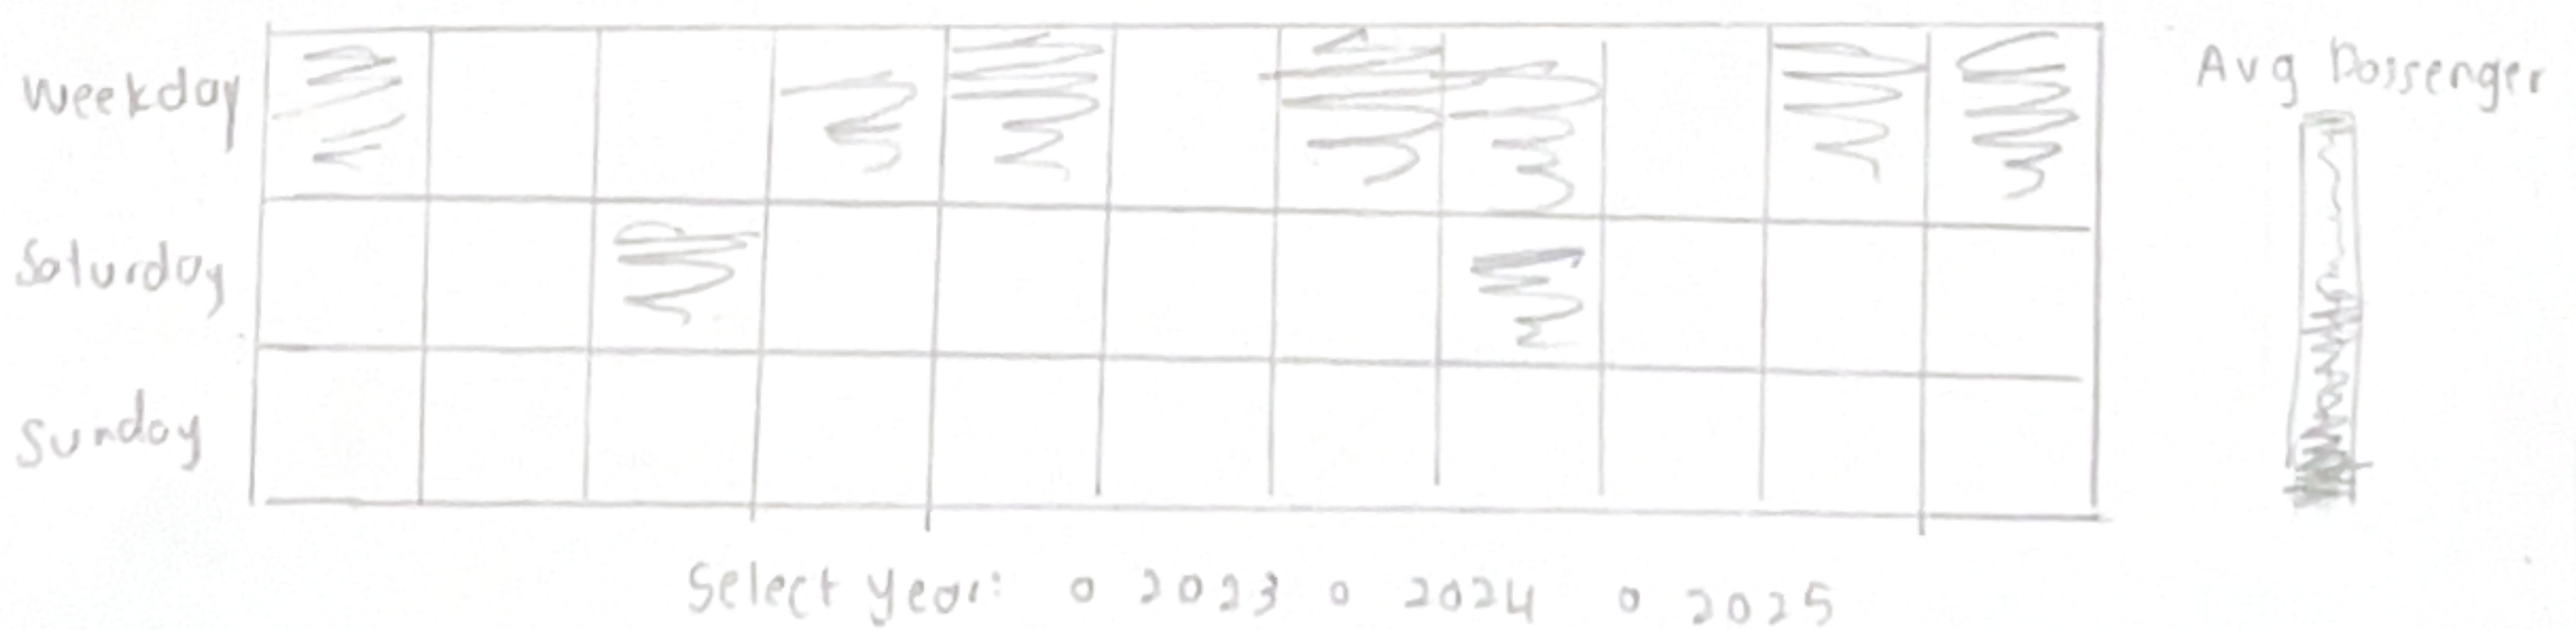

The map shows consistent pattern from 2023 to 2025, proven by massive cluster of high volume transit hubs concentrated within CBD

Annual Distribution of Patronage by Mode

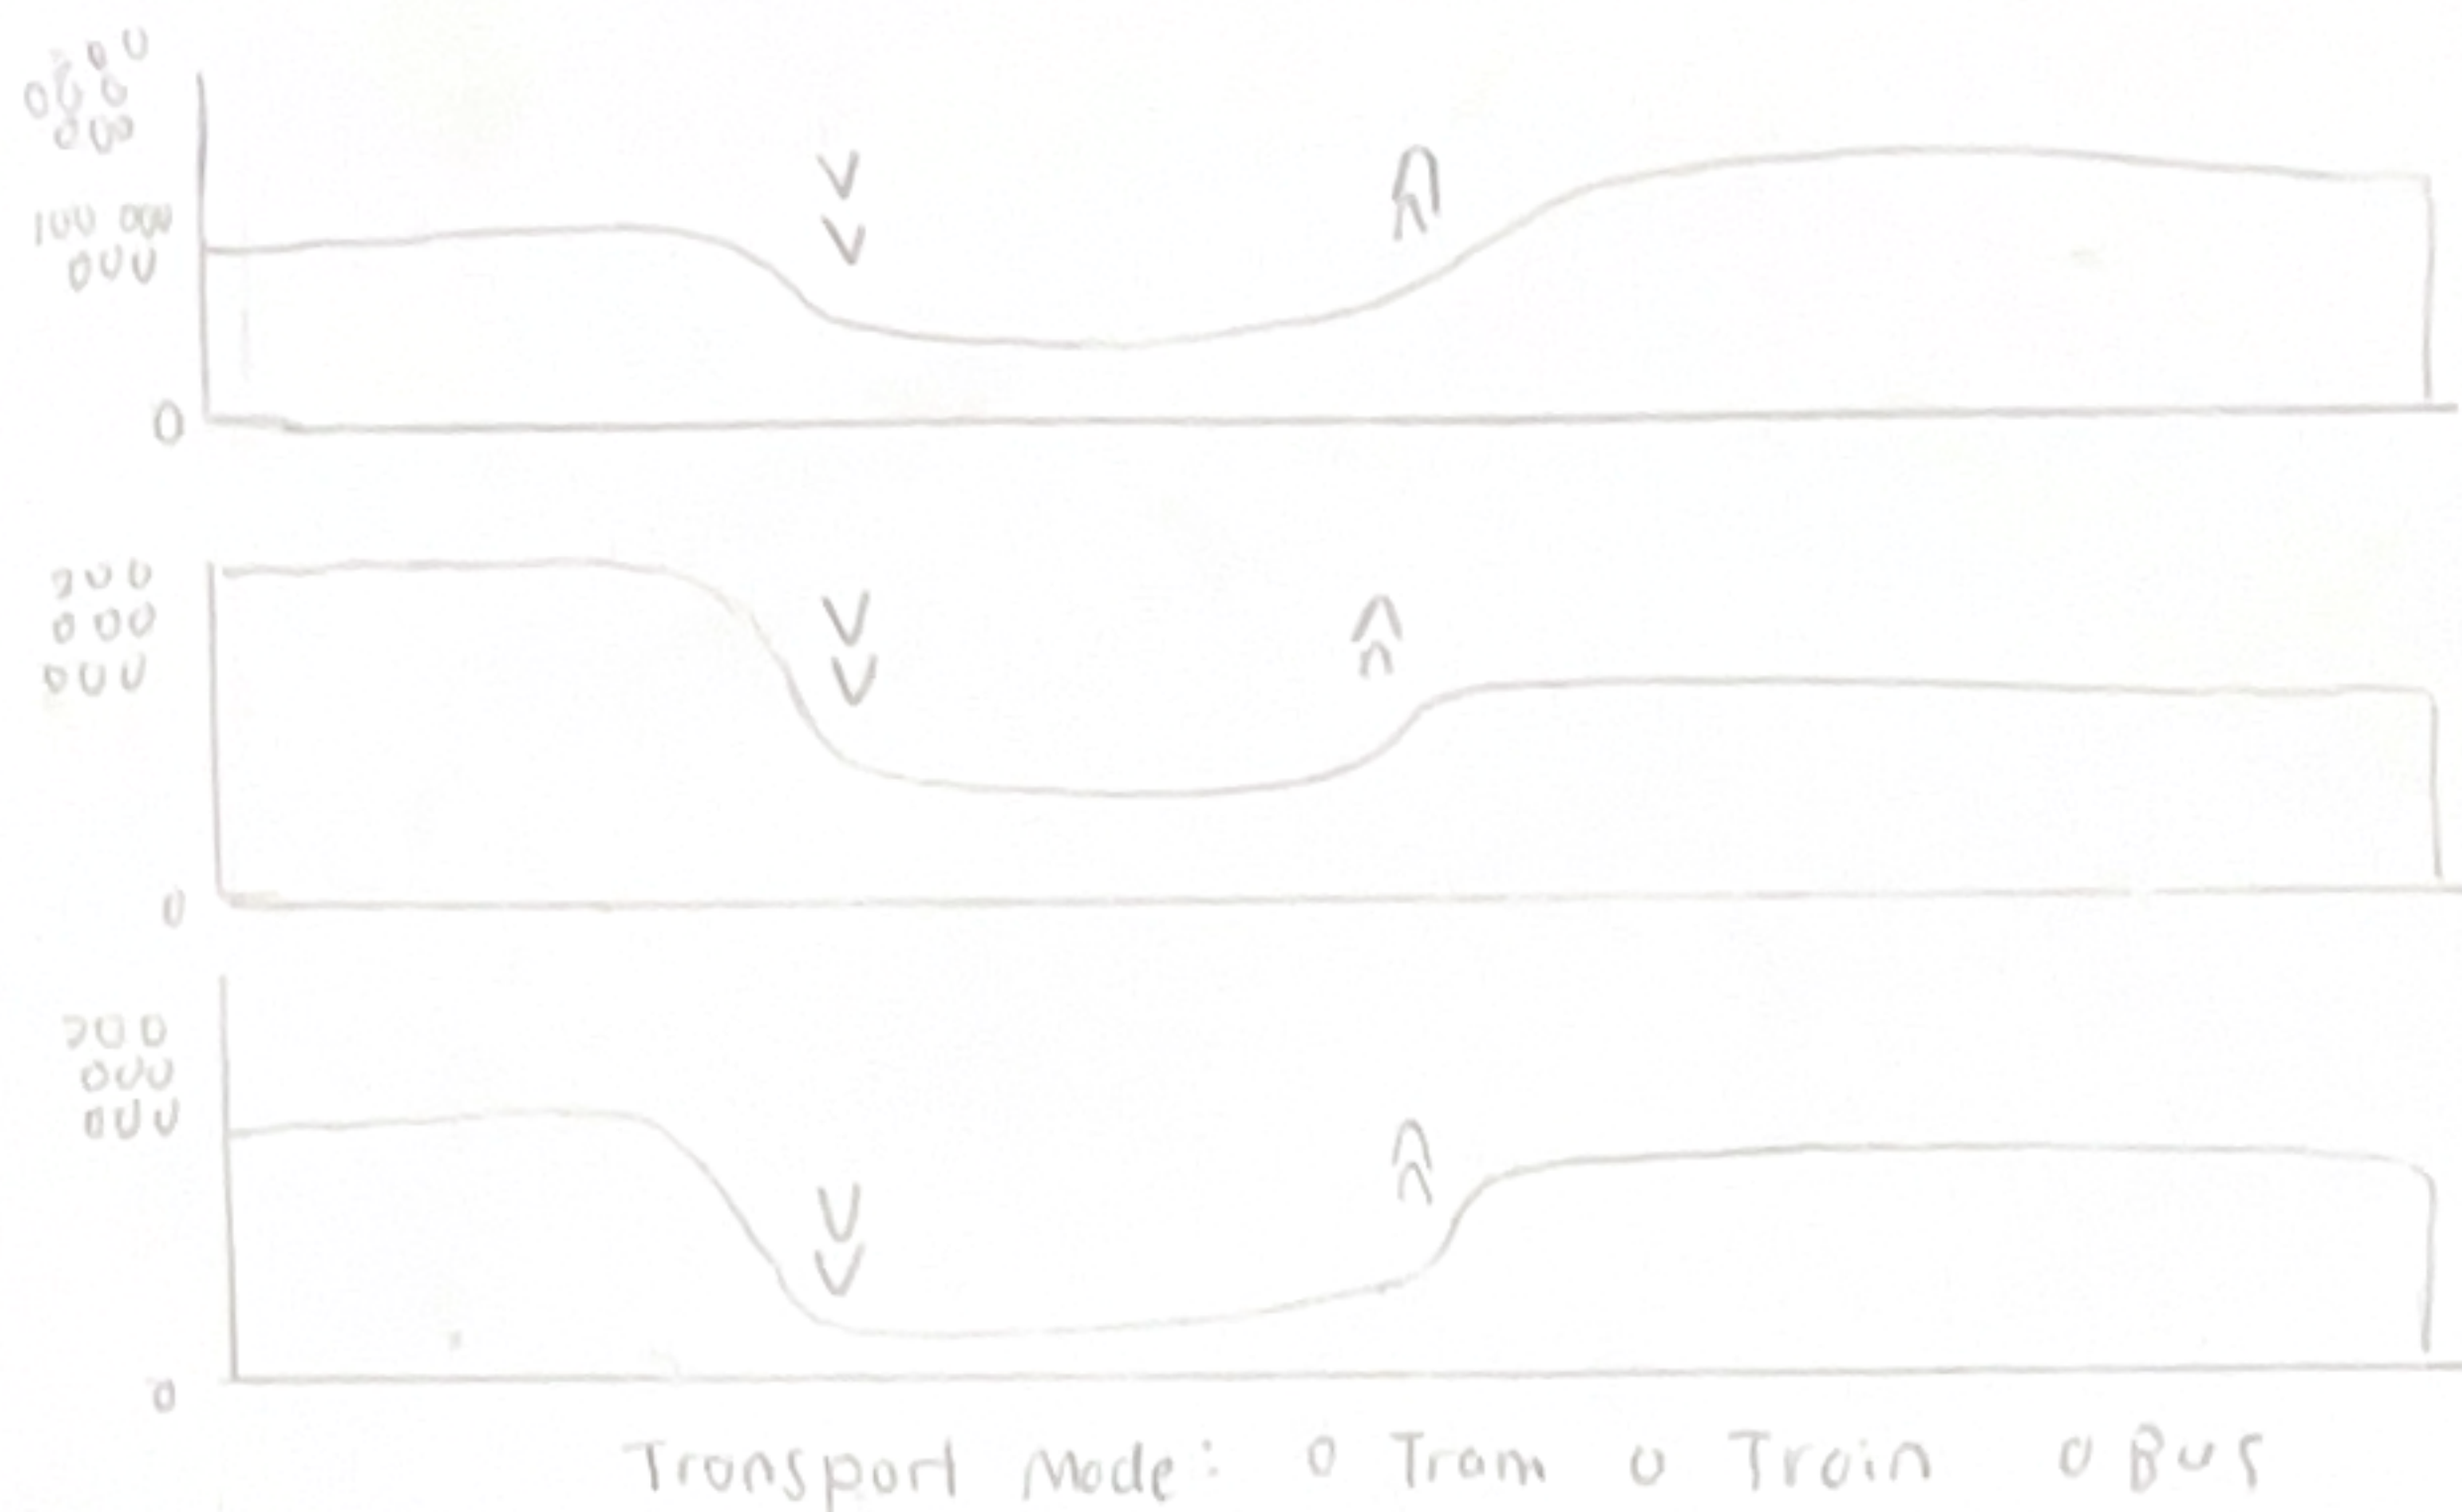

Metro train and tram consistently dominate ridership followed by bus while regional transit maintain stable smaller share

Victoria's Top 15 Station: Weekday vs Weekend Usage

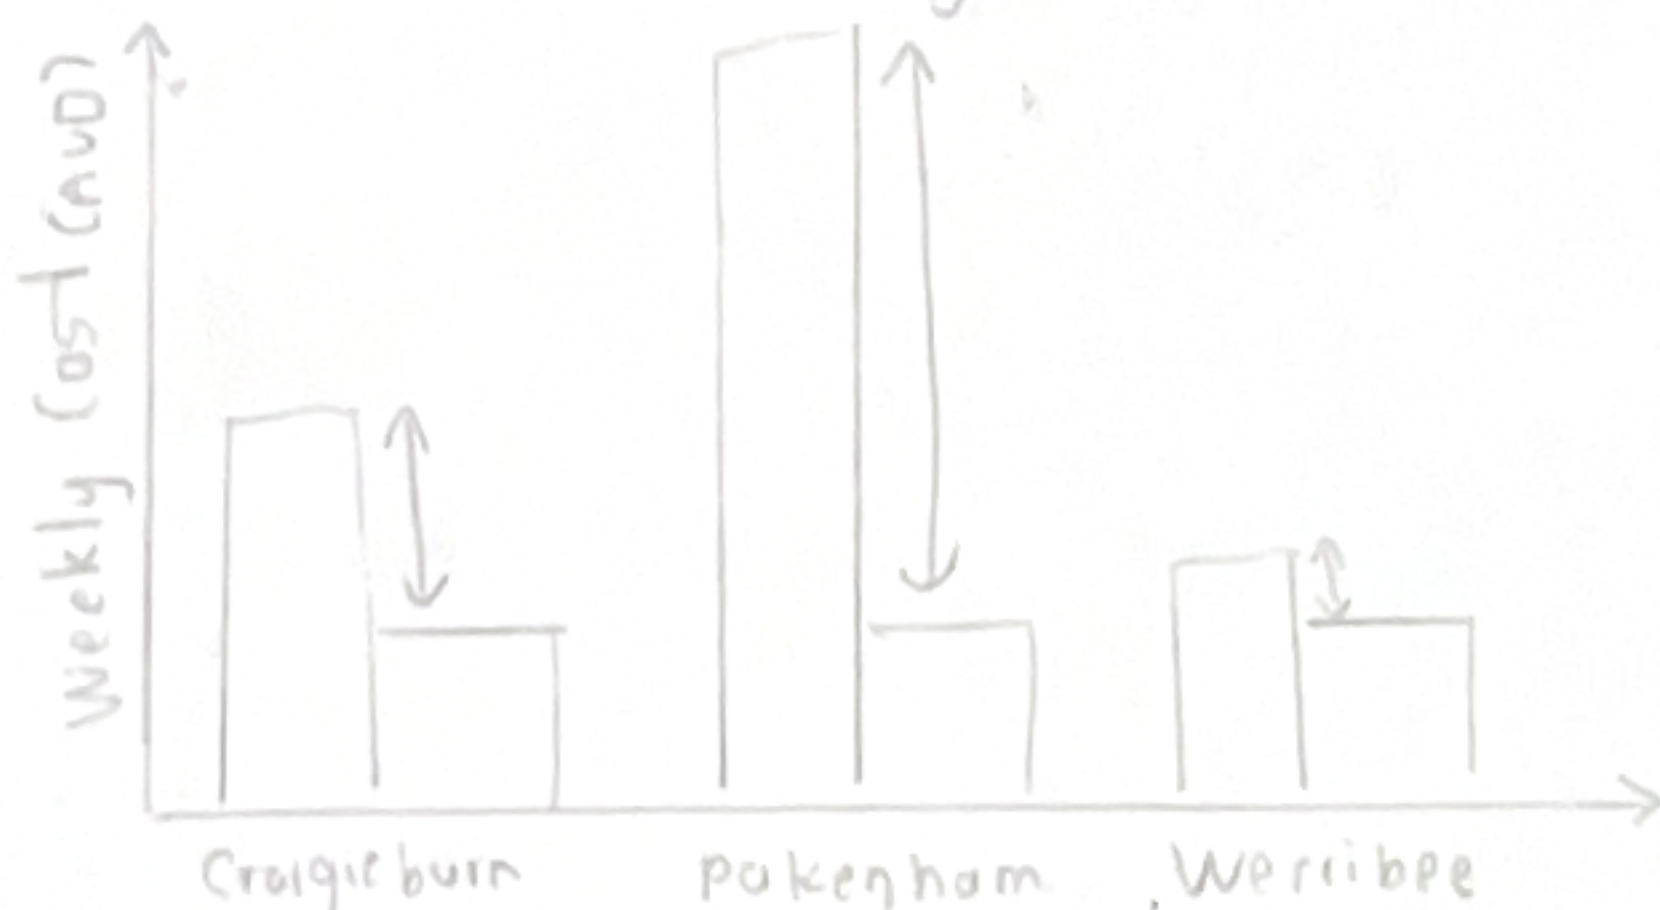

This chart shows that weekday usage consistently exceed weekend
This is most pronounced at famous hubs, while usage is relatively balanced at less famous stations

Patronage Trends by Metropolitan Transport Mode

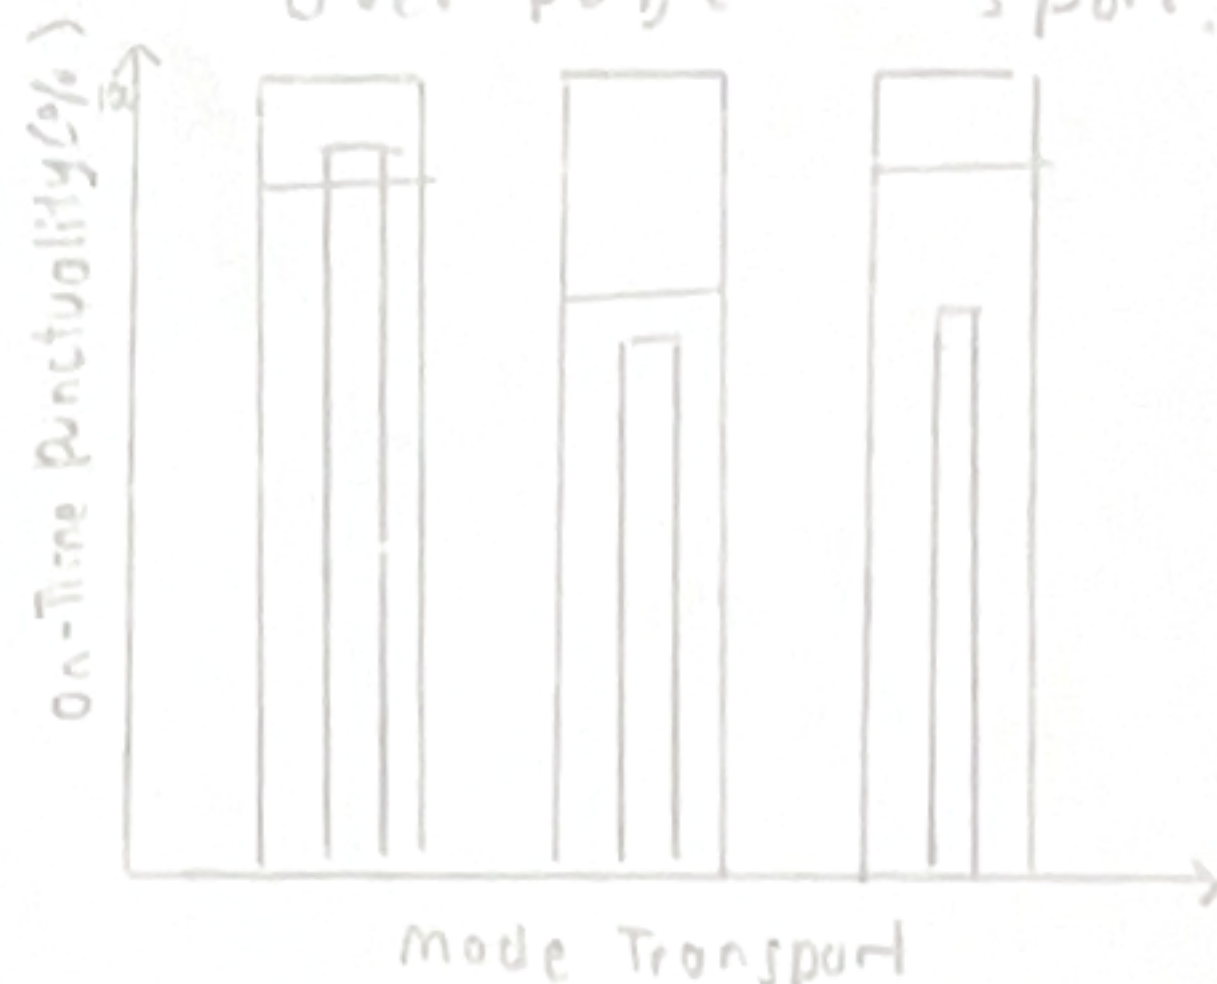

Metro train has highest patronage, followed by tram and bus. All mode follow similar pattern (shown by arrows) of high patronage in 2019, sharp decline in 2020 and a steady recovery from 2021.

Why People Prefer Public Transport Over Driving?

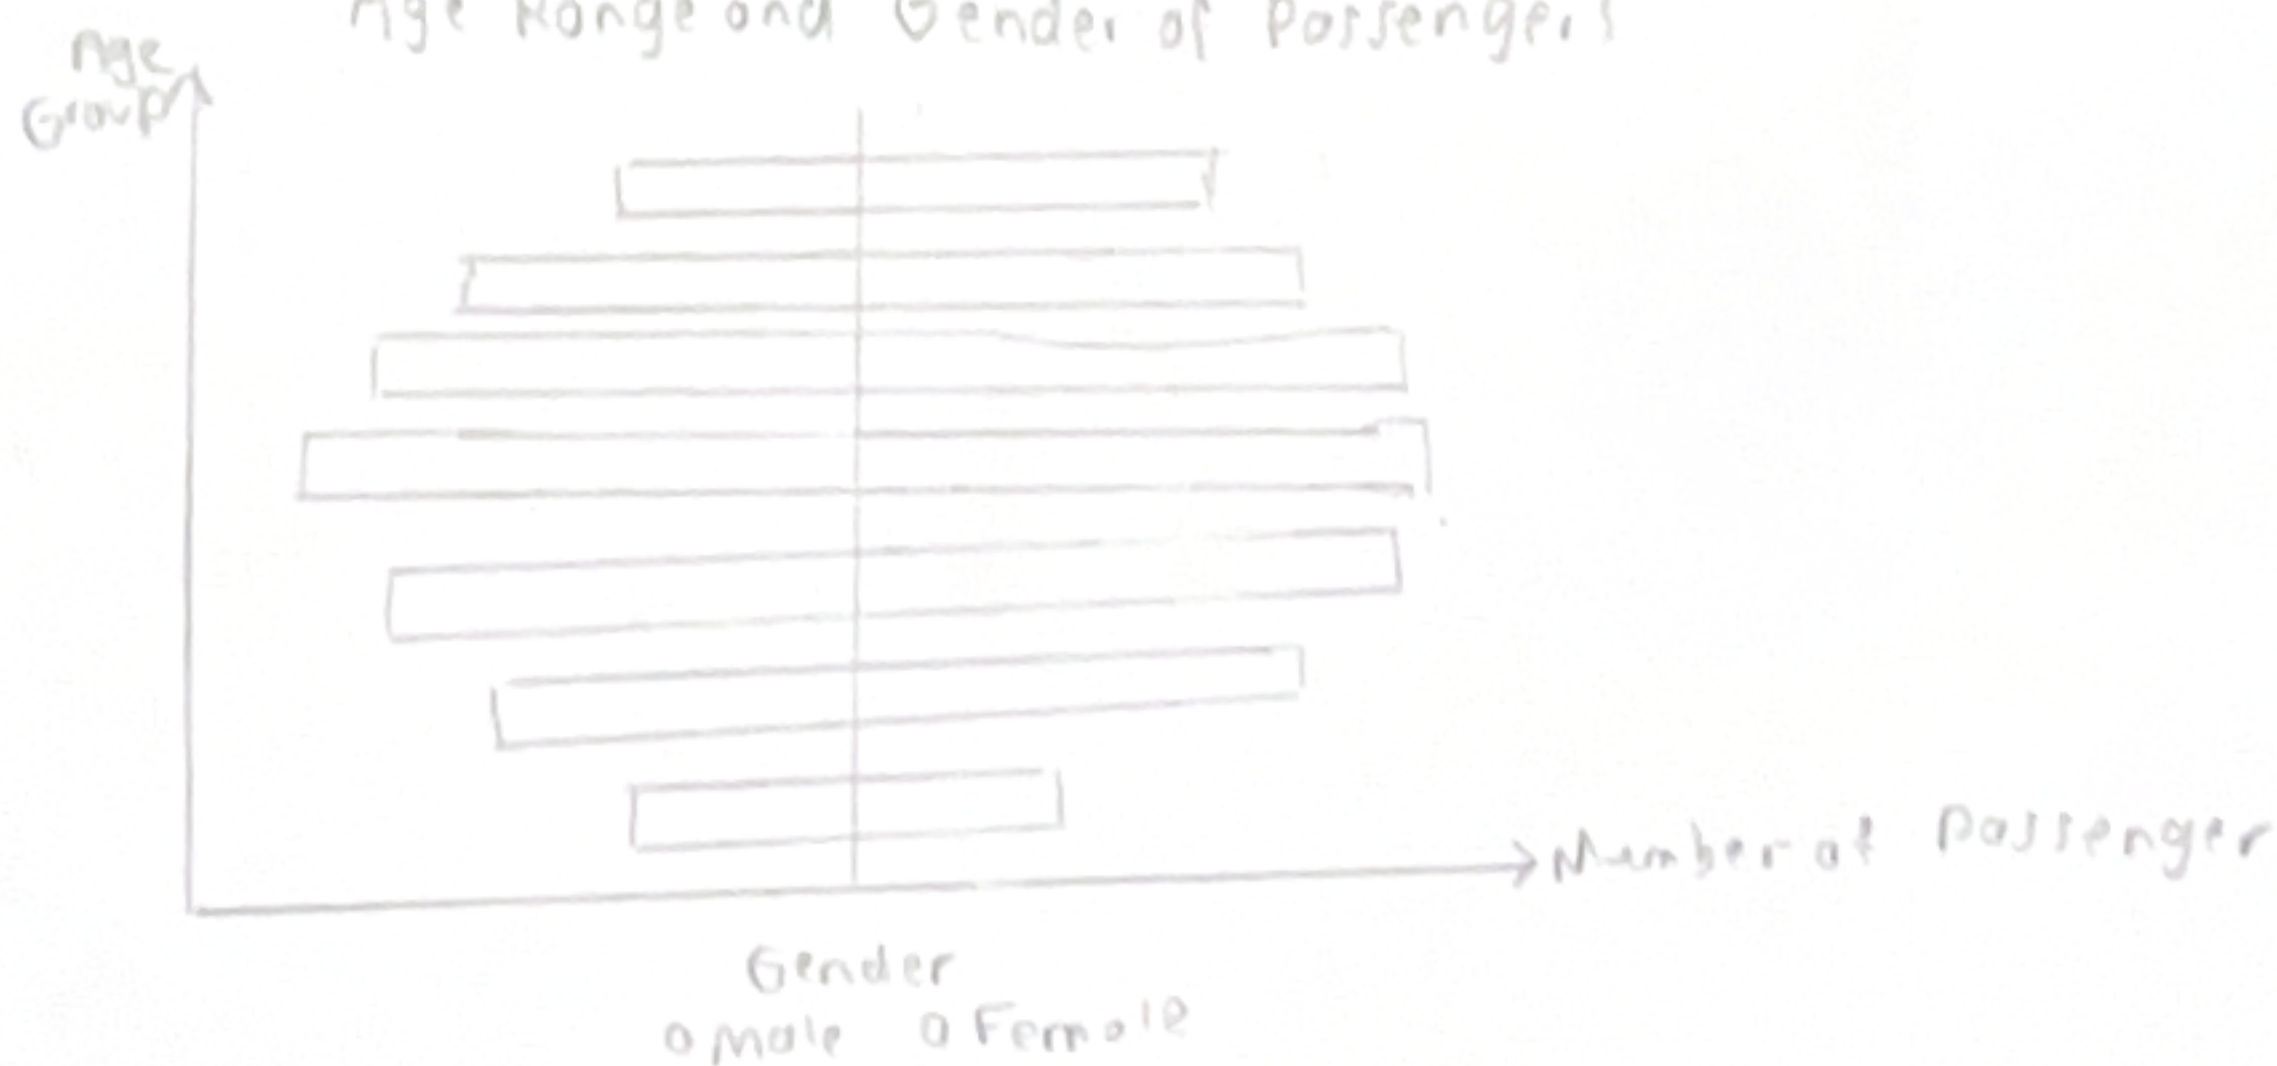

Cost efficiency is a strong incentive. Cost gap are significant for longer travel.

Why people prefer Driving over Public Transport?

While cost-efficient, it's hard to compete with driving's reliability. Reliability deficit reduce commuter's trust.

Age Range and Gender of Passengers

This chart said that public transport is heavily utilized by prime workforce age (35-44 years old). There is a symmetrical distribution between male and female.

Activities

Activities by Age Range and Gender

Select Gender: ○ All ○ male ○ Female

This chart reveals Full Time Work as primary activity, with massive concentration of age group between 30-50, followed by younger group concentrate in schooling (<20) and Retired activity dominates 65 onwards

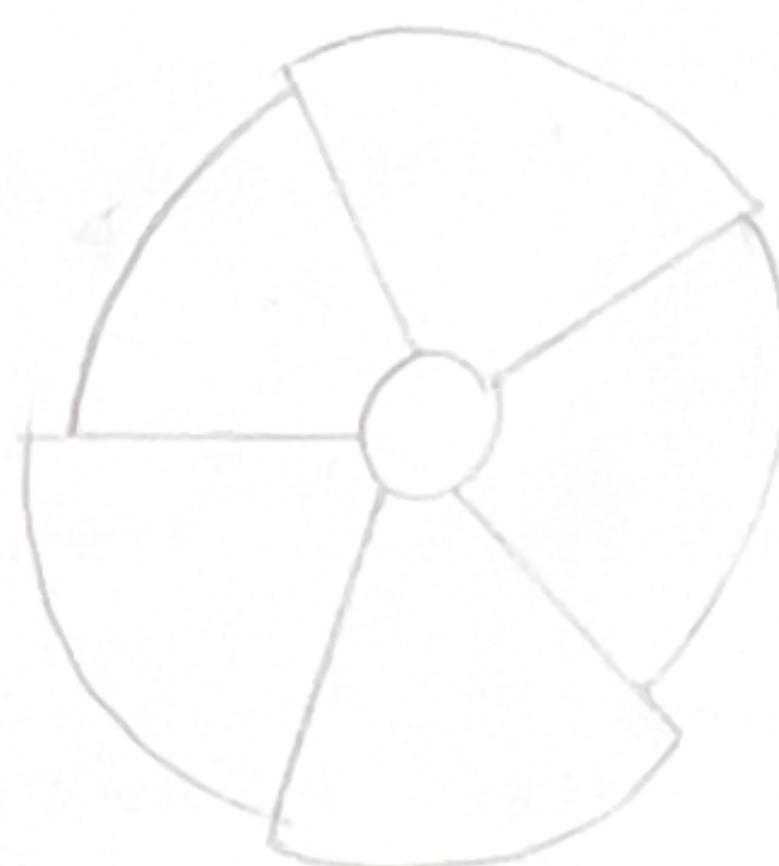

Patronage Profile Comparison: Flinders Street Station

Period
 ○ AM
 ○ PM
 ○ Pre-AM

Chart exhibits highly skewed patronage. PM Peak dominates total volume. This suggests that this is a major hub primarily used for commuters returning home in the evening.

Patronage Profile Comparison: Boxler Station

Period
 ○ AM
 ○ PM
 ○ Pre-AM

In contrast, this chart displays even distribution across all time. No single period dominates, indicating consistent usage throughout the day rather than sharp peaks.

Back Top